About me

Victoria, Australia

I'm a Melbourne based actor, presenter, and documentary filmmaker. I've spent the last 16 years of my life working with people from all over the world, in education, consulting and business strategy. Over the years I've been involved in a number of creative projects and having gone through those experiences, I came to know that one day I will focus my full attention on my creative passion. Since 2018, I worked closely with a number of talented creatives who inspired me to realise a lifelong dream of mine. In May 2019 I created and directed my first-ever documentary film titled 'DISPLACED' I spent seven days living homeless on the streets of Melbourne to document what it's like to live and survive in the cold, wet streets. With this project now at the post-production stage, I'm now looking forward to working on a more creative project for this year, and to meet and work with the many talented creators in Australia and beyond.
